

23rd - 26th September, 2009, Plitvice Lakes, Croatia

The objective of this international scientific conference is to give a theoretical and practical contribution to the concept of sustainable development in karst regions, with a special emphasis on the experiences achieved in the Dinaric karst region. The exchange of information and findings obtained in other karst regions worldwide will allow for an integral approach to this complex issue, and thereby contribute towards finding reliable solutions. The issue will be approached from different perspectives, from those of a technical and biological nature, to those addressing the social aspects of environmental issues and life on the karst.
