

CABRI-Volga was an international coordination action to facilitate cooperation and coordinate research in environmental risk management in large river basins in the EU, Russia and the New Independent States (NIS). The results will contribute to enhancing existing initiatives on the development of coordination mechanisms in the basin.

Links:

<http://www.cabri-volga.org>