

5th-7th April 2006, Kazan, Russia.

The Aristotle University of Thessaloniki is a partner in this international coordination action funded by the EU. The project aims to facilitate cooperation and to coordinate research in environmental risk management in river basins in the EU, Russia & New Independent States (NIS). CABRI-Volga focuses on the Volga basin. INWEB coordinator Prof. J. Ganoulis will attend this expert meeting, which provides an opportunity to discuss and exchange knowledge and expertise with peers from various countries and institutional backgrounds.

<http://www.cabri-volga.org/index.html>