

An international conference, entitled "International co-operation in the Balkans, the Black Sea, the S.E. Mediterranean Sea and the Caspian Sea on matters relating to the environment, regional planning and sustainable development" is being organised by the Greek Ministry of Environment and Planning, and will take place in Athens on 27th January 2001. INWEB is one of the 22 projects that received funding from this Ministry in 2000. All the projects are now required to make a short presentation of their achievements to date at this conference.
