

The Greek government, Ministry of Environment , Physical Planning and Public Works, has provided substantial funds (approximately 100K EURO) to launch the network. Expenses for the first three months of operation can be covered with this money.